Ever since it all began way back there in 1911, Carolina basketball has produced great excitement for its legion of fans. No era, however, can match the magic of The Dean Smith Years, during which our players have brought such great honor to the University and to themselves. There have been a lot of champions in our corner. We salute them, and now . . .

Here we go again!

PRESS - RADIO - TV

Nothing could be finer than basketball at Carolina—and the same goes for the enthusiastic press following of the Tar Heels.

Newspapers, radio and television reporters across the State (and the entire South) keep daily tabs on the progress of Dean Smith and his men in Carolina blue.

The Carmichael Auditorium press box is filled to capacity for every home game. More than 40 radio stations in three states carry The Tar Heel Basketball Network. Woody Durham, popular Greensboro telecaster, will handle the play-by-play with Jim Heavner of Chapel Hill Radio Station WCHL doing the color.

Durham also will serve as M.C. throughout the season on The Dean Smith Show which will be televised each week on stations across the State of North Carolina.

Working press credentials for Carolina home games can be secured by contacting Jack Williams, Sports Promotion and Information Director. Requests are screened with care to insure a working press box. Children, wives and pets are not allowed in compliance with the working code of the Basketball Writers Association of America.

Photographs inside this year's Bluebook were taken by Charles Cooper, Mark Handler, Tom Norby, Charles Buchanan and some of the student photographers at the University of North Carolina.

THE EIGHT GREATEST YEARS IN A COLORFUL PAST

Nothing could be finer than basketball at Carolina!

From the beginning in 1911 to the present, basketball always has been a boom sport on The Hill. There have been an unbelieveable total of 33 championships.

Here is a resume of the eight greatest championship years:

1924—South Atlantic Champions, National Champions. The record: 23-0.

1946—Southern Conference champions, NCAA Eastern Regional champions, second place in the national finals. The record: 30-5.

1957—Dixie Classic champions, Atlantic Coast Conference champions, NCAA Eastern Regional champions, national champions. The record: 32-0.

1967—Tampa Invitational champions, Atlantic Coast Conference champions, NCAA Eastern Regional champions, fourth in the National finals. The record: 26-6.

1968—Far West Classic champions, Atlantic Coast Conference champions, NCAA Eastern Regional champions, second in the National finals. The record: 28-4.

1969—Third in the Holiday Festival, Atlantic Coast Conference champions, NCAA Eastern Regional Champions, Fourth in the National finals. The record: 27-5.

1971—National Invitational Tournament champions. The record: 26-6.

1972—Big Four Tournament champions, International Tournament champions in Spain, Sugar Bowl champions, Atlantic Coast Conference champions, NCAA Eastern Regional champions, Third in National finals. The record: 29-5.

Those are the eight biggest years, but every year is a big year in Carolina basketball. In 63 years of competition, Tar Heel teams have racked up an amazing total of 1,031 victories. Only five other teams, Kentucky, Kansas, Oregon State, St. John's and Pennsylvania, have topped the magic 1,000-mark.

The Dean Smith Era the past 12 years has been especially exciting. For example, the Tar Heels have played in a national tournament each of the past seven years.

The 1967, 1968, 1969 and 1972 teams won the Atlantic Coast Conference and NCAA Eastern regional championships en route to the national finals. The 1970, 1971 and 1973 teams went to the National Invitational Tournament in New York and swept the big prize there in 1971.

Carolina has won five Eastern Regional Tournaments since 1946. No other team has won more than three.

In the past seven years, the Tar Heels have compiled an overall record of 179 victories against only 43 defeats. That's a yearly average of 26-6. In Atlantic Coast Conference play where the action is war-like, the Carolina seven year record is 89 wins and only 24 losses. That may be the most fantastic record of all.

Carolina is one of only five teams in the nation to capture both the National Collegiate Athletic Association and National Invitational championships. The Tar Heels won the NCAA in 1957 with a perfect 32-0 record and swept the NIT in 1971, defeating Georgia Tech in the finals.

The Tar Heels have managed these feats against the toughest opposition in America. For example, each of the Tar Heel schedules the past seven years has been ranked among he ten toughest in the country.

There have been dozens of All-America players at Carolina. There have been six in the Dean Smith era alone. They are Billy Cunningham, Bob Lewis, Larry Miller, Charlie Scott, Dennis Wuycik and Robert McAdoo.

Carolina has had a player on each of the last three United States Olympic teams. Larry Brown starred on the 1964 team which won the championship at Tokyo, Charlie Scott was a member of the 1968 champions at Mexico City and Bobby Jones, current Tar Heel hero, played for the Olympic club at Munich in 1972 which barely lost to the Russians in a disputed game.

The crowds which turn out to see the Tar Heels play are proof of the popularity of the sport here. Students sleep in Carmichael Auditorium on the nights before tickets go on sale. Every home game is a complete sellout.

Nothing Could Be Finer..... Than Basketball At Carolina

Carolina teams play big-name foes. The Tar Heels face such national powers as UCLA, Kentucky, Ohio State, Purdue, St. Joseph's, St. John's, Houston, Florida State, Duquesne, Princeton, Kansas, Notre Dame, Louisville, Utah, West Virginia, Oregon State, California and many more.

But nowhere is the competition tougher than in the Tar Heels' own backyard against Atlantic Coast Conference foes. Teams in that great league besides Carolina are Maryland, Wake Forest, Duke, North Carolina State, Virginia and Clemson.

The Tar Heel fame even spread abroad in 1971 when the Tar Heels went to Madrid, Spain and captured the championship of the International Christmas Tournament against teams from Spain and Brazil. Last year, the Tar Heels went to Hawaii and won the championship of the Rainbow Classic, beating powerful Louisville in the finals.

The 63-year record is 1,031 wins and only 426 losses. Fifty-three of the 63 teams have had winning records.

Nothing could be finer than basketball at Carolina. You'd better believe it.

1973-74 PROSPECTUS

With all-America candidate Bobby Jones leading a talented front line, the North Carolina Tar Heels are expected to be a strong force in college basketball again in 1973-74.

Coach Dean Smith, starting his 13th season at the Tar Heel helm, predicts a competitive entry in the rugged Atlantic Coast Conference—but cautions that question marks cloud the prospectus.

"We lost an amazing senior leader in Guard George Karl and another starter in Donn Johnston," Smith says. "Both will be extremely difficult to replace."

Winner of five ACC and four Eastern Regional championships in the past seven years, Carolina has a storied basketball tradition. Last year's fine team raced to 25 victories, won the Rainbow Classic championship in Hawaii, finished second in the ACC race and placed third in the National Invitational Tournament in New York. It marked the seventh straight year the Tar Heels had played in a national tournament.

Now comes the new year and a new challenge. Leading the way is Jones, a 6-9 senior from Charlotte, N.C., who is a cinch to make most of the pre-season all-America teams.

Jones gained great prominence in his first two seasons at Carolina and enhanced his reputation with fine play for the United States Olympic team at Munich in 1972 and in the USA-Russian cross-country tour this past spring.

Exceptionally quick for a big man, Jones hit 60.1 percent of his shots last season, averaging an even 15 points a game. He led the team in rebounding with 348 and tossed out 130 assists. He is one of the nation's best defensive players.

There is a lot of strength in the Tar Heel front court. Joining Jones at the post positions will be junior Ed Stahl, 6-10; sophomore Mitch Kupchak, 6-9; and junior Charles Waddell, 6-6.

Stahl was a starter last year and did a commendable job, averaging 12.4 in scoring and pulling down 194 rebounds to rank second on the team in that department. Kupchak, a rising sophomore, played well as a freshman in a reserve role, averaging 7.7 in scoring and grabbing 165 rebounds. Waddell appeared in 11 games and showed promise.

Returning to the swing position vacated by Johnston is John O'Donnell, a 6-6 senior who was a key player in many games last season. He was largely responsible for both victories over arch-rival Duke. John averaged 6.8 in scoring with 66 rebounds. Other returnees at this position are Bill Chambers, 6-4, and Mickey Bell, 6-5.

The big guard position should be in capable hands with the return of Darrell Elston. 6-4, and Ray Harrison, 6-2. They alternated at that position last season before Harrison became ill midway through the year. Elston played sparkling defense on occasion and averaged 9.8 in scoring. Harrison had an average of 4.3.

The biggest problem, naturally, will be replacing the flashy Karl at the "quarterback" spot in the backcourt. Karl led Carolina in scoring last year with a 17.0 average, sparkled on defense and set a school record with 192 assists.

Chief candidates for the job among returnees will be Brad Hoffman, 5-10; Ray Hite, 6-0; and rising sophomores Tony Shaver, 5-11, and Dave Hanners, 6-0. Hite and Hoffman saw considerable action in reserve roles last year.

Six incoming freshmen have been recruited and will get shots at varsity jobs. They are Jeff Crompton of Burlington, N.C., 6-10 player at the post position; Tommy LaGarde of Detroit, Mich., 6-10 postman; Bruce Buckley of Bladensburg, Md., 6-8 postman; Walter Davis of Charlotte, N.C., 6-5 swing man; and 6-1 John Kuester of Richmond, Va. and 6-5 James Smith of Lake Worth, Fla., candidates for the quarterback role.

"We could have more depth than any Carolina team in my time," Smith says, "and this should help out in case of foul trouble or injuries. But you can only play five men at a time, so it may not be that important a factor."

Smith says the Tar Heels have excellent size and should be improved in rebounding. "But we need to fuse this size with quickness to give us more fluidity on offense and to make our pressure defense effective."

The Tar Heels again face one of the toughest schedules in America, meeting the rugged ACC foes at least 15 times and taking on such awesome outsiders as Houston, California, Virginia Tech, Furman, Florida State, Kentucky and Miami of Ohio.

Coach Dean Smith Says:

"I expect us to have another strong team at Carolina in the 1973-74 season—but there are some question marks.

"First of all, we must compensate for the loss of seniors George Karl and Donn Johnston, who gave us so much in ability and leadership. Karl, in particular, will be difficult to replace. He quarterbacked our team for three years and was a terrific player. Too, we lost Donald Washington, who is scholastically ineligible.

"Our front line is big and our rebounding could be improved. We may, at times, use three big men in our lineup at the same time. This, of course, helps us in rebounding, but in doing so we could lose some quickness on offense and in our pressure defense.

"We have been fortunate enough to lead the country in field goal percentage the past two years and I believe we will be a good shooting team again. It must be noted, however, that Karl led us in scoring and he is gone.

"Based on the overall improvement of ACC teams and our tough outside schedule, it will be difficult to improve our record. We are assured of playing 15 games against ACC teams and that makes for a tough situation. N. C. State, which went unbeaten last season, has to be rated the league favorite. Explosive Maryland was a Top Ten team last year and returns its key performers. It looks like a wide-open race in the ACC as all teams are legitimate contenders.

"We have two big plusses. The biggest is the confidence that this group will continue to display the team-oriented attitude demonstrated by last year's team. We count on our four seniors to show leadership in this direction.

"Senior Bobby Jones is the other plus factor. He is one of the greatest, most complete college players in America and one who typifies the team concept."

Steeped in rich tradition, but reaching toward the future, is the University of North Carolina, one of the nation's great academic institutions.

Located in the cosmopolitan village of Chapel Hill, Carolina is situated near the approximate geographic center of the state. The beautiful town has been called by Time Magazine "one of the 20 most enjoyable places to live in the United States."

The school itself is the oldest state university in the nation, first admitting students in 1795 while George Washington was President. However, it was not until after Reconstruction that Carolina began making the rapid progress that has lifted it to the top of Southern education.

There are currently 14 schools at Carolina and more than 70 departments and other academic affiliated divisions and institutes.

Strong in both the humanities and the sciences, the University also has a School of Business Administration of special potency, commensurate with the growing industrial might of the mid-South.

An integral part of the University is the Division of Health Affairs, a six-fold center that includes a four-year medical school, dentistry school, pharmacy school, school for nursing and a public health school. All are located in the North Carolina Memorial Hospital, a teaching center for hundreds of clinics in 100 North Carolina counties.

Among the dozens of institutes and specialized programs affiliated with that division are the Health Services Research Center, the Hand Rehabilitation Center, the Child Development and Mental Retardation Research Institute and the Dental Research Center, each of which is one of only a few centers of its kind in the country.

Carolina is one of the largest and top-ranking universities in the nation. A recent rating of graduate schools by the American Council on Education put 12 UNC graduate departments in the highest category and 12 in the second highest. This made Carolina the leader of all universities, public or private, in the Southeast.

Alan Carter of the ACE describes Carolina as "the leading Southern university, a liberal voice in the region."

In annual choices made by Southern graduate scholars in the Rockefeller grants, more select graduate study at Chapel Hill than any other place.

The University is continuing to grow as it strives to keep pace with the changing world of today. Growth has been especially tremendous in the last 20 years. Those two decades have seen the establishment of the School of Journalism, the School of Business Administration, the Carolina Population Center, the WUNC-TV educational television station, the Ackland Art Center and a new computer system.

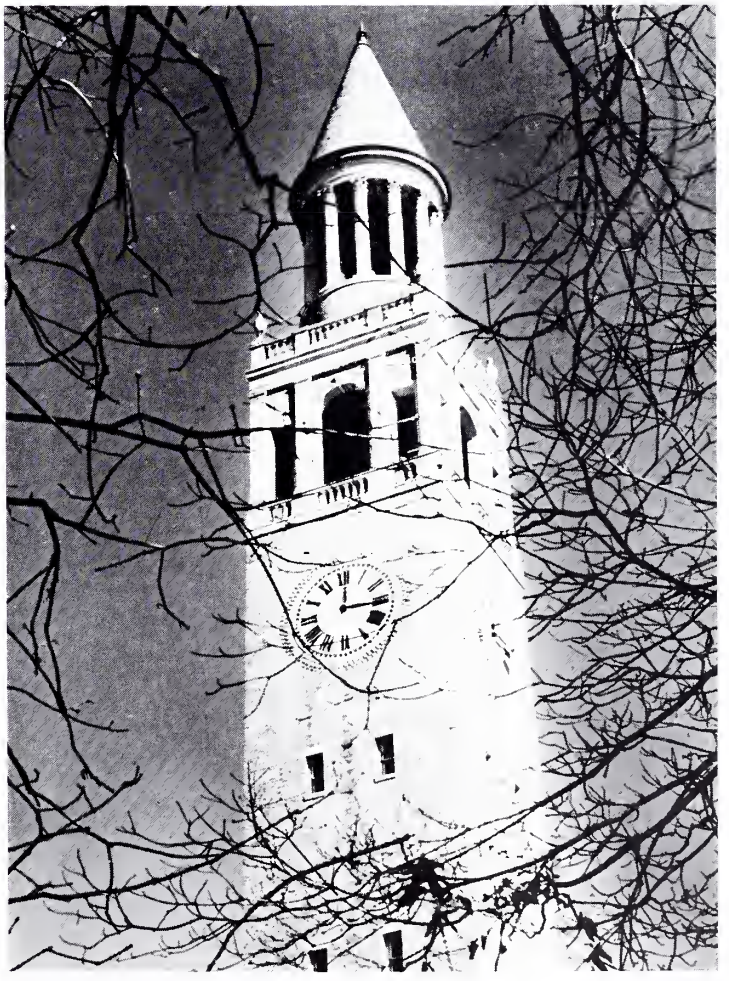
In that same time, buildings have multiplied; student enrollment has reached nearly 20,000; the faculty has grown to over 1,200; new courses have been added to the Curriculum and old ones revised; adult education courses have expanded; and scholarship and development programs have grown.

Here are some other facts of interest about one of America's great universities:

—Carolina's Morehead Planetarium was the first planetarium on a university campus in the world. It features special programs and exhibits and is a training base for U.S. astronauts. The unique Planetarium Sundial allows one to determine the correct time anywhere in the world.

—Thirty-one of North Carolina's 50 governors have been Carolina graduates.

—One of the best-known organizations on campus is the Carolina Playmakers. Former members of the Playmakers include Thomas Wolfe, Paul Green and Betty Smith.



—James K. Polk, an 1818 graduate, became the 11th President of the United States.

—The Institute of Government on campus is a training center for city, county and state officials and employees. It is also involved in research and consultations for state and local governments.

—The University's television network feeds programs into North Carolina public schools.

—In a traditional program of student self-government, undergraduates have their own legislature, system of honor courts and student publications. These include a daily newspaper, "The Daily Tar Heel."

—Another feature is the Institute for Research in Social Science, an organization performing fact-finding duties in sociology, economics, humanities, statistics, journalism and other fields, including race relations, urban studies and regional development.

But perhaps the most outstanding feature of the University is the gentle way the new has been blended with the old to form one of the most beautiful campuses in the world.

Ivy-covered buildings and tree-lined walkways surround spacious, grassy greens where students lounge between classes. Tall pines cover south campus where modern buildings are under construction.

In direct contrast are Gerard Hall, built in 1837, and Old East, the oldest state university building in the nation. The cornerstone to Old East was laid in 1793 and the dorm was dedicated as a national shrine in 1966.

Other famous and beautiful spots around campus are the Old Well, the Davie Poplar, the Carolina Inn, the botanical gardens and Gimghoul Castle.

It's no wonder the late artist William Meade Prince once called Carolina and Chapel Hill "the southern part of heaven."

FEREBEE TAYLOR

CHANCELLOR

In the first months of his term as Chancellor of the University of North Carolina, N. Ferebee Taylor followed the Tar Heel basketball team to the 1971-72 National finals in Los Angeles. The Chancellor has been whooping it up for the Tar Heels ever since.

The No. 1 man on the Carolina campus is also the No 1 fan of Carolina athletic teams. "I'm proud of our athletic tradition," the Chancellor says, "and our basketball teams always have given us a lot to cheer about."

The Chancellor has seen other Carolina teams perform in magnificent fashion during his administration, too. He was on the scene in El Paso, Texas last December when the Tar Heel football team capped an 11-1 season with a stirring victory over Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl.

Basketball Coach Dean Smith hails Chancellor Taylor as one of his team's biggest boosters. "We're happy that we have a Chancellor who feels so strongly about athletics," Smith says. "He visits our practices regularly and rarely ever misses a game."

The Chancellor feels that the Athletic Department is an important part of the total University and expresses a hope that all students will make use of what it offers, either as participants or as spectators.

"At Carolina, we will continue to strive for excellence in our athletic department just as we will in all other departments," Chancellor Taylor says.

Chancellor Taylor is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, receiving an A.B. in American History in 1942. He was the first Jackson Scholar at UNC (this scholarship was the first full four-year grant) and served as president of Phi Beta Kappa, making straight A's for three consecutive years.

He was also president of the University Club, speaker of the Student Legislature, and a member of the Order of the Golden Fleece and the Order of the Grail.

The Chancellor served in the navy during World War II and reached the rank of lieutenant. After being released from active duty, he entered Harvard Law School and received the LL.B. cum laude in 1949.

He then enrolled in Balliol College at Oxford as a Rhodes Scholar, receiving his B.A. in philosophy, politics and economics in 1951. He received his M.A. from Oxford in 1955.

Chancellor Taylor then practiced law in New York City until returning to Carolina in the spring of 1968 as a visiting professor at the UNC Law School.

He was named administrative vice president of the Consolidated University in 1970 and served in that position until being unanimously selected by the Board of Trustees as the new Chancellor. He replaced J. Carlyle Sitterson.

In his administrative job with the Consolidated University, Chancellor Taylor had served as a legal advisor to the Consolidated University and had acted as a liaison between the Board of Trustees and its committees.

Chancellor Taylor is married to the former Louise C. Ellington and they have three daughters—Louise, 20; Sarah, 16; and Martha, 13.

HOMER RICE

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Homer Rice, Carolina's man in motion, is a winner and he has the record to prove it.

In less than five years since he became Director of Athletics at UNC, Rice has led the Tar Heels to the top rung of Atlantic Coast Conference athletics and has built the Carolina program into one of the best in America.

Last year, Carolina swept its third straight Carmichael Cup, the award given to the ACC school with the best overall record in athletics. Carolina had not won the award for five years until Rice arrived on the scene and put his magic to work.

Not only that. Under Rice's direction, Carolina was the national champion of composite ratings for football and basketball in 1972. The Tar Heel basketball team finished second in the polls and the football team 12th, giving UNC 14 composite points. UCLA was a close second.

But Homer Rice is really just getting warmed up. He works around the clock as he strives to help the Tar Heels reach other goals.

He admits that the Carmichael Cup is a top goal every year. "When I came to Carolina, I wanted to have the best overall athletic program in the ACC," he says. "That was sorta my No. 1 goal. It's a credit to our coaches and players that we have been the best the past three years. But we can't rest on our laurels. We're looking to the future."

Winning is old hat to Homer Rice. He has been a winner in every job he has undertaken. He revolutionized football offenses with the triple option in an illustrious coaching career. Now he's winning fame as an administrator.

On the national level, Rice serves on the prestigious NCAA Television Committee, is involved with the U.S. Congress as a member of the joint committee on athletics and education and serves on the NCAA Statistics and Classification Committee. He just recently was named to the executive committee of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

Homer Rice with his wife Phyllis

This past summer, Rice revealed some of his motivational ideas and organizational talents as a guest lecturer at the National Athletic Directors' Management Institute in Colorado.

In the short time he has been in Chapel Hill, Rice has learned the folkways and the byways of varsity sports at Carolina and has revitalized (or maybe revolutionized) the athletic program here.

He has brought about more than 30 additions and improvements to facilities, has unified the athletic program and, in general, has taken steps to insure a bright future for Tar Heel athletics.

Rice has managed to do all this with an administrative style that is possibly unique among athletic directors. He rarely raises his voice except to cheer Tar Heel teams. He delegates authority readily and his art of getting things done is one of friendly persuasion rather than driving aggression. Those working with the athletic director respond warmly and effectively to this approach.

Carolina has a 14-sport men's varsity program and eight women's sports, one of the largest programs in the United States. "We invite every student on our campus to be a part of our program, either as a participant or as a follower of our teams," Rice says.

Rice, 46, is the third man to head the Carolina athletic program in 50 years. The late Coach Bob Fetzer was the first, serving from 1922 until 1951. Chuck Erickson succeeded him and held the job until his retirement in mid-1968.

A native of Ft. Thomas, Ky., Rice is the son of a Methodist minister.

After serving with the Navy in the Pacific in World War II, he attended Centre College and made the Little All-America team as a quarterback on the football team. He received an

DEAN SMITH

Mr. Basketball at the University of North Carolina is Dean Smith who heads into his 13th Tar Heel season with one of the greatest records and reputations in the history of the college game.

Smith has won more games than any man who ever coached the Tar Heels in a hotbed of basketball. And he's won respect, too. He is one nice guy who never has finished last—or even close to it. In fact, he makes a habit of finishing first.

Just look at the record. His men in Carolina blue have swept four of the last seven Atlantic Coast Conference championships and have won the NCAA Eastern Regional title each of those four years. In the same seven-year period, the Tar Heels have captured the regular season championship of the ACC five times and have finished second twice.

Smith has carried Carolina to a national tournament each of the past seven years. The Tar Heels went to the National Invitational Tournament in New York in 1970, 1971 and 1973, winning the big prize in 1971.

In his 12 years at the Carolina helm, Smith has guided the Tar Heels to an astonishing record of 245 victories against only 90 defeats. That averages out to 20-7 each year.

Following a rebuilding period in his early years at Carolina, Smith and his Tar Heels have carved out a record of 179-43 the past seven years. He ranks second only to UCLA's Johnny Wooden among the nation's top winning coaches over that period.

There have been only six coaches in America to take a team to the final four in NCAA play as many as four times. Smith accomplished the feat in his first 11 years at Carolina. Hank Iba did it four times in 32 years, Adolph Rupp six times in 34 years, Jack Gardner four times in 29 years, Fred Taylor four times in 15 years and John Wooden ten times in 24 years.

How does Smith work all this magic? It is a combination of things. He has tremendous rapport with his players, he is a masterful teacher and his style of play gets amazing results.

Carolina teams under Smith are noted for their unselfish play, team morale and aggressive man-for-man defense. Although the Tar Heels specialize in a whirlwind fast break, they have a very disciplined offense and usually lead the nation in field goal percentage. The Tar Heels also have led the ACC in scoring five of the past seven years.

Coach Smith (C) with Assistant Eddie Fogler (L) and Chief Aide Bill Guthridge.

Smith has made many innovations in the game of basketball. Among them are his run and jump defense; the mixing of pressure defense after a field goal; the point zone; the four-corners all-purpose delay; team huddles at the foul line; and foul shot alignment. His free-lance passing game innovation has attracted much attention recently.

His defensive and offensive schemes are constantly studied by other coaches across the country. Many outstanding college coaches visit the Carolina campus during the off-season to get tips from Smith. Even professional coaches have sought his advice and counsul.

In fact, Smith has been offered a few professional coaching jobs as well as dozens of other college head coaching jobs. He has turned them all down and flatly states that he has no desire to coach in professional basketball.

"The big enjoyment is working with young players," Smith said. "I have no desire to coach in the pros. I'm very happy in Chapel Hill."

Smith came all the way from Kansas to gain fame in the town of Chapel Hill. A native of Emporia, Kan., he attended the University of Kansas on an academic scholarship. He played freshman football and varsity basketball and baseball. He was a member of the Kansas cage team which won the national championship in 1952 and finished second in 1953.

Smith was assistant basketball coach and baseball coach at the Air Force Academy in 1958 when he was brought to Carolina by Frank McGuire, then the Tar Heels' head coach. When McGuire left in 1961 to join the professional ranks, Smith was named the head coach.

His first team, caught with mediocre material, had an 8-9 record. He hasn't had a loser since then.

Smith's Carolina teams have swept an unbelievable total of 16 tournament championships in his 12 years here. They added another last year when they took the Rainbow Classic crown in Hawaii, defeating a powerful Louisville team in the finals.

The year before that, Carolina won five tournament titles in one year. The Tar Heels swept the Big Four Tournament, the International Christmas Tournament in Madrid, Spain, the Sugar Bowl Tournament in New Orleans, the ACC and the NCAA Eastern Regional.

Smith, 42, is so greatly respected that he is called upon to lecture at clinics all over the world. He has just stepped down after serving for six years on the national rules committee. Two years ago, he was named to the National Association of Basketball Coaches Board of Directors representing District Three. He replaced the great Adolph Rupp in that capacity.

Smith makes hundreds of speeches each year. His own basketball camp at Carolina always turns away enrollment. The camp is so popular that Smith doesn't even advertise it.

Dean has developed a keen interest in theology and reads every book he can find on the subject. He often takes time from his hectic schedule to have lunch or dinner with religion professors on campus and he finds their conversation stimulating. In his spare time, Smith plays golf and tennis, spins records and reads books. He is an excellent golfer and very competitive on the tennis court.

Basketball is the name of his game, but Smith finds time to cheer other Tar Heel teams. He inquires almost daily about the progress of other Tar Heel teams.

Dean and his wife, Ann, have three children, Sharon, 18; Sandy, 17; and Scott, 15.

BILL GUTHRIDGE

Assistant Coach

After serving six years as a co-assistant on the Carolina staff, Bill Guthridge now assumes the role of chief assistant coach of the Tar Heels.

For the last six years, Guthridge and John Lotz were co-assistants to Coach Dean Smith. When Lotz resigned last spring to become head man at the University of Florida, Guthridge was given his new title.

"Bill is one of the top coaches in America, and that includes head coaches as well as assistants," says Smith. "His record as an assistant here and at Kansas State is tremendous. He has made great contributions to both programs."

In his six years at Carolina, Guthridge has helped guide the Tar Heels to six straight post-season tournaments, three Atlantic Coast Conference championships and the National Invitational Tournament title in 1971.

In addition to assisting with the varsity, Guthridge has also coached the Carolina freshman and junior varsity teams in that stretch. His teams have compiled a record of 72-25 and the defending Big Four champions.

Prior to coming to Chapel Hill, Guthridge had been an assistant on the Kansas State staff. During his time there the Wildcats won 93 games, lost only 43, swept two Big Eight titles and once advanced to the NCAA semi-finals.

A native of Parsons, Kan., Bill played his high school basketball for Harold Johnson. Johnson and his brother, Gene, were the innovators of the zone press in the 1930's.

Guthridge went on to start at guard for Kansas State in the years the Wildcats reigned as Big Eight champions—1958, 1959 and 1960. He was chosen as one of the University's 13 most outstanding all-around seniors.

Following his graduation, he coached for two years at Scott City High before returning to his alma mater as an assistant to the famed Tex Winter.

Besides working with Winter and Smith, two of the great names in coaching, Guthridge has also gained valuable experience in Puerto Rico where he has twice coached in summer leagues. On one occasion he was named Coach of the Year and was invited to coach the Puerto Rico team in the 1968 Olympics. However, he had to turn the offer down because of his work here.

Guthridge is a master strategist and works closely with Smith in all phases of the Tar Heel program. He has turned down two major college coaching jobs and has had his name withdrawn from consideration from several others.

"Not only is Bill an astute basketball technician," says Smith, "but he also is an excellent teacher. He is highly respected by the players who have been through our program. He is sincere in his recruiting and I think this has made him a favorite of prospective student-athletes and their families."

Unlike many coaches, Guthridge says he enjoys recruiting.

"Some people say recruiting is undesirable," says Bill. "But my experiences have been very enjoyable. I think that has a lot to do with the type of young man which our University attracts."

Bill has a masters degree in education and has taken courses at Carolina toward his Ph.D.

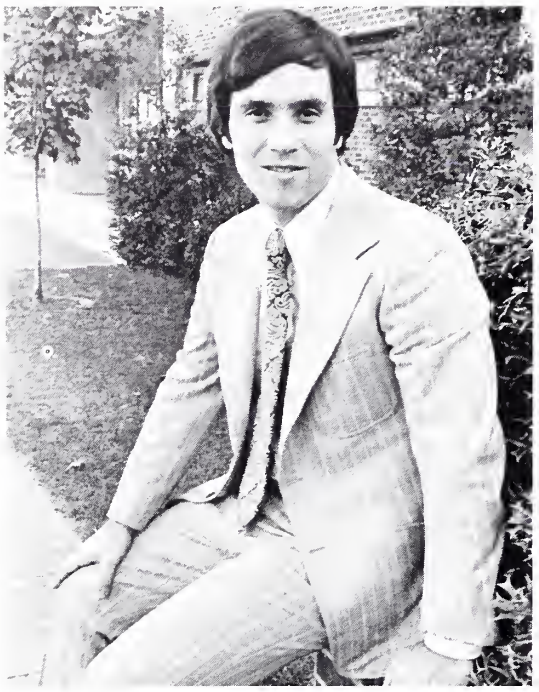
While basketball is his game, Guthridge is also a keen follower of other sports. When he can find some spare time he likes to play golf. Bill enjoys all collegiate sports and is an old St. Louis Cardinals baseball fan.

Guthridge has an excellent sense of humor and is one of the most popular after-dinner speakers in the athletic department.

Bill and his wife Leesie have two sons, Jamie, 13, and Stuart, 10, and a baby girl, Megan, one-and-a half.

EDDIE FOGLER

Assistant Coach



Eddie Fogler, who helped guide Carolina to two Atlantic Coast Conference championships as a player, is now trying to work that same magic as a coach.

After serving two years as a graduate assistant, Eddie is now a full-time staff member. He fills the void on the staff created when John Lotz resigned to become head coach at the University of Florida.

In fact, when Lotz resigned, the job never really became open. Fogler was at Carolina and had already begun to show his ability as a coach.

"Eddie brings a bright mind to his coaching position," says Carolina Coach Dean Smith. "He really was like an assistant coach on the floor in his playing days here when he quarterbacked some of our championship teams.

"He's a tireless worker who has shown great enthusiasm for coaching. He's a sincere, dedicated young man with a great future."

Fogler came to Carolina from New York City, where he was twice an all-city selection. Eddie played on Tar Heel teams in 1968, 1969 and 1970. The 1968 and 1969 teams swept ACC and NCAA Eastern Regional titles and went on to the National Finals. In his senior season the Tar Heels played in the National Invitational Tournament.

Fogler, a playmaking guard, is considered one of the finest passers and most clever ballhandlers in UNC history. He ranks seventh among Carolina players in career assists.

Following his graduation in 1970, Eddie spent a year teaching and coaching at DeMatha High School in metropolitan Washington, D.C. He was in charge of the DeMatha junior varsity.

Fogler returned to Chapel Hill in the fall of 1971 as a graduate assistant. He worked with the Carolina freshmen and also helped with scouting and recruiting. Eddie, who majored in math at UNC, received his masters last spring.

Fogler is one of the most popular members of the Carolina athletic staff. He has recently taken up tennis and has become quite adept at the game. However, he enjoys all sports. Eddie is one of the few bachelors in the UNC Athletic Department.

JOHN LACEY

Head Trainer

Keeping the Tar Heels healthy is a task John Lacey has performed with the highest distinction in his seventeen year tenure at Carolina. During that period, he has won national recognition in his profession.

Lacey garnered one of the greatest honors of his career in 1972 when he was selected head trainer of the United States delegation to the Olympic Games in Munich, Germany. It was Lacey's second experience as trainer for Olympic teams. He served as trainer to the United States gold medal basketball squad at the Tokyo Olympics in 1964. In 1972, Lacey directed the overall training program for the American teams.

Lacey is an excellent trainer who has been associated with championship caliber athletes. He has worked with seven football bowl teams, including the 1963 Carolina victors in the Gator Bowl, the 1970 Tar Heel Peach Bowl team, the 1971 UNC Gator Bowl squad, and last year's Sun Bowl winners from Carolina.

Associated with national championship teams at both Maryland and UNC, Lacey works most closely with the basketball program. He has made five treks to the NCAA basketball finals, in 1957, 1967, 1968, 1969, and 1972. He has performed an integral role to the greatest Tar Heel teams—the 1957 National Championship club and Dean Smith's stellar squads which have won four Atlantic Coast Conference and Eastern Regional Championships and one National Invitational Tournament title in the past seven years.

Lacey arrived in Chapel Hill in 1956, coming from Maryland with the late Jim Tatum who had worked closely with John at Maryland. At Maryland, Lacey trained two Orange Bowl teams and a Sugar Bowl squad. Lacey proved a vital asset in Tatum's successful efforts to restore Carolina to national prominence in football.

A native of Wallingford, Connecticut, Lacey studied at the Yale University Department of Physical Therapy and at the Tilton School in Tilton, N.H. The dapper Tar Heel trainer is married to the former Barbara Koch of Wallingford.

CAROLINA'S GREATEST PLAYERS

Out of the exciting past of Carolina basketball come some of the greatest names the game has ever known—from Cartwright Carmichael and Jack Cobb of the Roaring 20s to Larry Miller and Charlie Scott of the 60s.

It all started way back there in 1911 when the Tar Heels fielded their first team and it's been a boom sport on The Hill ever since. Few universities in the United States have produced as many all-America players as Carolina—and the list grows longer almost every year.

Carolina first hit the big-time in the sport in 1924 when the Tar Heels won 23 games in a row and swept the National championship. Stars of that great team were Cobb, Carmichael and Monk McDonald.

While the style of play has changed drastically since then, these men are still recognized as three of Carolina's greatest stars. Cobb, in fact, is a member of the Helms Basketball Hall of Fame.

Although the Tar Heels did not have an all-America like Cobb in the 1930s, there were many outstanding players. Ivan (Jack) Glace, Earl Ruth, Virgil Weathers, Tom Alexander, Jim McCachren and Stewart (Snooks) Aitken made the all-Southern Conference team during that era.

The big star of the early 1940s was George Glamack—"The Blind Bomber." Glamack had terrible eyesight and could barely see the basket while standing right under it. However, he developed the uncanny sense of knowing where the hoop was in relation to his position on the court. He perfected a hook shot which he shot with either hand and with great accuracy. He was a two-time all-America, Helms Player of the Year in 1941 and now is in the Hall of Fame.

All-America John (Hook) Dillon was the star of the 1946 team which lost to Oklahoma A and M and big Bob Kurland in the national finals. Dillon, however, had an excellent supporting cast in Jim Jordan, Bones McKinney, Jim White and Bob Paxton. Jordon, in fact, had been an all-America in 1945 and the Most Valuable Player in the Southern Conference.

Eleven years later, the Tar Heels again reached the national finals. This time, they won, defeating Wilt Chamberlain and Kansas in a triple overtime thriller that rates among the greatest college games ever.

Lean Lennie Rosenbluth was the star of that team. He was named National Player of the Year. Rosenbluth was a great shooter and still holds the UNC career scoring record. Other starters on that team were Pete Brennan (who made all-America the next year), Tommy Kearns, Joe Quigg and Bob Cunningham.

The stars were many during the 1960s. Big Lee Schaffer was the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year in 1960. Schaffer was a great scorer and later became an all-star performer in the National Basketball Association with the Syracuse Nationals.

York Larese and Doug Moe also starred for the Tar Heels in the early part of the decade. Larese ranks as one of the greatest free throw shooters in Carolina history. Moe was a sensational all-around star and now is an assistant coach with the pro Carolina Cougars.

A teammate of Moe's was Larry Brown, a diminutive guard who rates as one of the finest playmakers Carolina has had. Brown played on the 1964 Olympic team which swept the Gold Medal. He now is head coach of the Carolina Cougars and was voted the ABA Coach of the Year.

Billy Cunningham, a three-time all-ACC selection, was the next star on the Carolina scene. He made all-America in 1965. The "Kangaroo Kid," now is a star for the Carolina Cougars of the ABA.

Bob Lewis, a thin sharpshooter from Washington, D.C., stepped into Cunningham's shoes as the next star performer. He holds the Carolina school scoring record with 49 points against Florida State.

One of UNC's greatest players was Larry Miller, an all-America in 1968 when he led his team to the national finals where they lost to Lew Alcindor and UCLA. Miller twice was named ACC Player of the Year. Playing at 6-4 and 215, he was a rugged performer who dazzled crowds with driving layups and a great variety of shots.

Bill Bunting, Dick Grubar and Rusty Clark were Carolina starters on teams which won three straight ACC regular season and tournament championships, swept three Eastern Regionals in a row and went to the final four in the nation.

Bunting had a great senior season and made all-ACC. Grubar was one of the most popular athletes to wear Carolina blue and was a sparkling playmaker and scorer. Clark was a tough defensive performer and a great rebounder.

Then there was Charlie Scott—who may have been the greatest of them all. Charlie excelled in every phase of the game. He made All-America in his senior year and was voted ACC Athlete of the Year. In 1968, he starred for the United States in the Olympic Games.

Dennis Wuycik and Robert McAdoo made all-America in the early 1970s and again sparked Carolina to the national final four. Wuycik was a player in the mould of Miller, strong and aggressive. McAdoo had a great shooting touch and was a classic rebounder. Both are pro stars now, Wuycik with the Carolina Cougars and McAdoo with Buffalo.

Then came George Karl, another highly popular player who amazed fans with his daring and diving on the court. He started for three years in the 1970s and was all-ACC. George now is playing for the new San Antonio franchise in professional basketball.

And the list of Carolina greats continues to grow. The current roster may produce more players who will rank with the all-time greats. Carolina has a fabulous tradition in the game and the men who play here do great honor to the school and to themselves.

1972-73 CONFERENCE RECORD: none
TEAM HONORS: first round NCAA tournament last spring; final rankings: 13 AP, 18 UPI
SERIES RECORD: UNC 0, Houston 1

LETTERMEN LOST: 6-4 G Jerry Bonney; 6-10 Dwight Jones; 6-4 G Clay Hoster; 5-10 G Doug Worrell; 6-8 F Steve Newsome
REPLACEMENTS: 6-3 G Otis Birdsong; 6-2 G Jim Perry; 6-2 Billy McGrath; 6-8 F Vernon Freeman; 6-5 F Larry Nevils

OUTLOOK

Only two starters return from last year's 23-4 team, but Houston again should field an outstanding team. Top returnee is Louis Dunbar, a 6-9 guard who made the "rookie All-America team" last year as a sophomore. He averaged 21.1 last year. Also back is 6-10 center Maurice Presley. However, the Cougars should replace the missing starters very well. Other top lettermen who will fight for starting berths are 6-9 Sidney Edwards, 6-8 David Marrs, 6-2 Donnell Hayes and 6-2 Ed Riska. Other possibilities are Randy Green, leading scorer for last year's JVs, and freshman star Otis Birdsong. Houston's strong point will again be inside power on the boards.

CALIFORNIA

Wednesday, December 5 1973 at Chapel Hill

Coach Dick Edwards

Rickey Hawthorne

SCHOOL: California

NICKNAME: Golden Bears
CONFERENCE: Pacific Eight

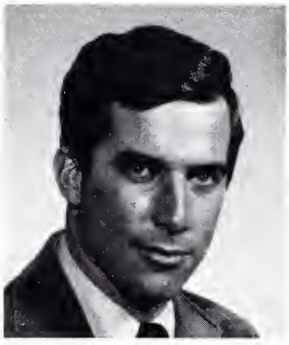
REPLACEMENTS: 6-5 F John Terry; 6-8 F Pat Motola; 6-10 C Rock Lee; 6-8 F Jim Griffith; 6-7 F Doug Vilotte
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAINS: To be named

OUTLOOK

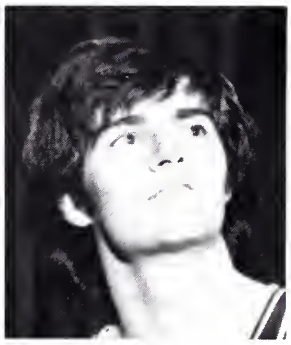
Experience and depth return at guard; inexperience reigns up front. In sophomore Rickey Hawthorne, who earned 2nd team All-Pacific 8 conference honors as a freshman last year, and senior Brady Allen, the former California JC "player of the year." Dick Edwards is solid in the backcourt. Only 6-8 Carl Meier returns up front, and Edwards hopes to be able to return the solid senior to his normal forward spot after having played last year at center. Freshmen Rock Lee (6-10), Jim Griffith (6-8) and Doug Vilotte (6-7) along with JC transfer John Terry (6-5) will have to mature quickly. Edwards is in his second year at Cal after having won 70 percent of his games in nine seasons at the University of Pacific.

VERMONT

Saturday, December 8, 1973 at Chapel Hill



Coach Peter Salzberg



Joe Greco

SCHOOL: University of Vermont
LOCATION: Burlington, Vt.
NICKNAME: Catamounts

1972-73 CONFERENCE RECORD: 2-10
SERIES RECORD: First meeting
LETTERMEN RETURNING: 6-2 Barry Cohen; 6-5 Joe Greco; 6-4 Terry Green; 5-11 Mario Macias; 5-10 Rich Moss; 6-4 Don Ostler; 6-2 Bernie Palmer
LETTERMEN LOST: Greg Ashford; George Peredy; Nate Reeves; Jim Ducey
REPLACEMENTS: 6-7 Ron Gottschwalk; 6-2 Warren Prehmus; 6-7 Charlie Trapani
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAINS: Joe Greco

OUTLOOK

If the juniors, particularly captain Joe Greco and Mario Macias, continue to improve and some freshmen adjust to college basketball, Vermont could be "competitive quickly" in the Yankee Conference. Greco averaged 19.3 points per game and 9.7 rebounds last year. Macias had a team record 117 assists. "Right now, we're an unknown factor," says Coach Peter Salzberg. "I'm hoping for a balanced scoring attack. I do know one thing—we will be improved."

KENTUCKY

Monday, December 10, 1973 at Greensboro

Coach Joe B. Hall

Kevin Grevey

SCHOOL: Kentucky
LOCATION: Lexington, Ky.
NICKNAME: Wildcats

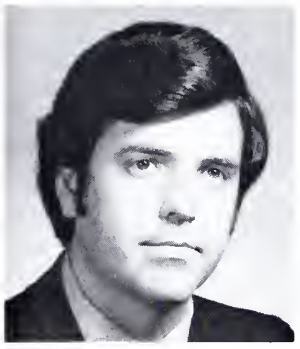
HEAD BASKETBALL COACH: Joe B. Hall (Kentucky '55)
HIS RECORD: Previous seasons—1, Won—20, Lost—8
1972-73 OVERALL RECORD: 20-8
1972-73 CONFERENCE RECORD: 14-4 (Champions)
TEAM HONORS: UKIT champions, SEC champions, NCAA Mid-East Regional runner-up
SERIES RECORD: UNC 9, Kentucky 5
LETTERMEN RETURNING: 6-7 F Fred Drewitz; 6-2 G Ray Edelman; 5-10 G Ronnie Lyons; 6-4 F Steve Grevey; 6-4 G Jimmy Dan Connor; 6-3 G Mike Flynn; 6-8 F Bob Guyette; 6-1 G Jerry Hale; 6-7 F Steve Lochmueller; 6-7 F G. J. Smith.
LETTERMEN LOST: 6-11 C Jim Andrews; 6-6 F Larry Stamper
REPLACEMENTS: 6-6 F David Miller; 6-1 G Reggie Warford; 6-11 C Roger Wood
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAINS: Ronnie Lyons

OUTLOOK

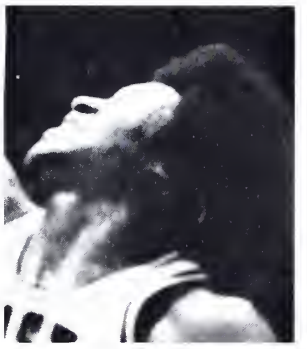
Kentucky's 1973 SEC champions return four starters, including Player of the Year Steve Grevey, and should be a top contender for national honors. Grevey, who averaged 18.7 last season, will be joined by other returning starters, Ronnie Lyons, Jimmy Dan Connor and Mike Flynn. Replacing 6-11 Jim Andrews at the post will be the big problem, but there are two fine prospects in lettermen Bob Guyette and Steve Lochmueller. A key plus for the Wildcats will be an experienced and strong bench.

E. TENNESSEE STATE

Saturday, December 15, 1973 at Chapel Hill



Coach Leroy Fisher



Henry White

SCHOOL: East Tennessee State
LOCATION: Johnson City, Tenn.
NICKNAME: Buccaneers
CONFERENCE: Ohio Valley
COLORS: Blue and Gold
1973 ENROLLMENT: 9,545
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS: Madison Brooks
PUBLICITY DIRECTOR: John Cathey
HOME COURT: Memorial Gymnasium
HEAD COACH: Leroy Fisher (East Tenn. State ' 68)
HIS RECORD: First season
1972-73 OVERALL RECORD: 9-17
SERIES RECORD: UNC Won 1, East Tenn. won 0
LETTERMEN RETURNING: 6-6 F Ron Mitchell; 6-2 G Henry White; 6-5 F Jerry Wilkerson; 6-3 G Rich Halbrook; 6-0 G Nat Major
LETTERMEN LOST: 6-2 G John Barrett; 6-6 F Ron Hardin
REPLACEMENTS: 6-4 F Kenny Reynolds; 6-4 F Morris Tampa; 6-8 C Elmo Seay; 5-11 Bruce Curtis
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAIN: To be named

OUTLOOK

The Buccaneers' success will depend on how well four junior college transfers bend in with a solid nucleus from last season. Guard Henry White (19.1) should be recovered from a knee operation which sidelined him the last half of the year and 6-6 Ron Mitchell should be in for a good year. Newcomer Kenny Reynolds, a 6-4 forward, led the State of Florida in scoring with 26 points per game at Chipola JC and he should be a big asset. The Bucs, who led the Ohio Valley Conference in defense last season, should be good in that area again. The offense should be greatly improved as should the board strength.

VIRGINIA TECH

Thursday, December 20, 1973 at Charlotte

Coach Don DeVoe

Craig Lieder

SCHOOL: Virginia Tech
LOCATION: Blacksburg, Virginia
NICKNAME: Gobblers
CONFERENCE: Independent
COLORS: Orange and Maroon

LETTERMEN RETURNING: 6-6 1/2 F Craig Lieder; 6-3 G Charlie Thomas; 5-10 G Bobby Stevens; 6-4 F Ed Frazier; 6-5 F Calvin Wade; 6-8 F-C Kyle McKee; 6-0 G Dave Sensibaugh; 6-0 G Tim Harvey
LETTERMEN LOST: 6-7 C Allan Bristow
REPLACEMENTS: 6-71/2 F-C Mike Collins; 6-4 F-G Dennis Shrewsbury; 6-5 G-F Mark Cartwright; 6-6 F Duke Thorpe
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAIN: Craig Lieder

OUTLOOK

Even with four starters returning from its 1973 NIT championship team, Virginia Tech will be hard put to match its 22-5 record of last season. Number one requirements will be to replace 6-7 Allan Bristow, most vital cog in the offense. Tech needs immediate help up front; 6-7 sophomore Mike Collins might provide it. "I feel that we'll have sufficient firepower on offense, and I'm confident we'll show defensive experience," DeVoe says. "I hope we can come up with the kind of balance we had last season."

BISCAYNE

Friday, December 28, 1973 at Miami, Fla.

Coach Ken Stibler

Ed Zukowski

SCHOOL: Biscayne College

HEAD COACH: Ken Stibler (Seton Hall '53)
HIS RECORD: Previous seasons—7, Won—90, Lost—76
1972-73 OVERALL RECORD: 18-6
TEAM HONORS: Selected to the College Division NCAA South Atlantic—2 Consecutive years
SERIES RECORD: UNC 1, Biscayne 0
LETTERMEN RETURNING: 6-0 G Bill Sheppard; 6-4 1/2 F Ed Zukowski; 6-4 F Art Collins; 6-6 C Ken Tanke
LETTERMEN LOST: 6-4 Dave Lawyer; 6-2 Jim McCloud; 5-11 Rich Haas
REPLACEMENTS: 6-3 Larry Mokar
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAINS: Bill Sheppard, Ken Tanke

OUTLOOK

Inexperienced in backcourt—lost five guards thru graduation. Much more physical team with more size and strength in front line. Playing tougher schedule with Houston, Florida State, Manhattan, Fairfield, Seton Hall, Long Island U., LaSalle, St. Peter's and South Alabama to be faced. Coach Ken Stibler will be trying to improve the won and lost record for the eighth consecutive year after last year's 18-6 record. Much depends on the rapid development of freshman and junior college transfers.

CLEMSON

Wednesday, January 9, 1974 at Clemson, S.C.

REPLACEMENTS: 6-0 G Tim Capehart; 6-9 F Scott Conant; 6-0 G Bruce Harman; 6-9 F Charlie Rogers; 6-1 G Jo Jo Bethea
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAINS: To be named

OUTLOOK

Each season since Tates Locke took over the Clemson basketball fortunes, the Tigers have improved on their previous record. Locke figures his team, after a 12-14 mark last year, is ready to vault past the .500 number now, although the Tigers operate out of the toughest basketball conference in the nation—the Atlantic Coast. Locke will have some rebuilding to do, mainly because three starters graduated, but he does have his first, second and fifth leading scorers returning.

VIRGINIA

Saturday, January 12, 1974 at Charlottesville, Va.
Saturday, February 23, 1974 at Chapel Hill

Coach Bill Gibson

Gus Gerard

LETTERMEN LOST: 6-4 G Barry Parkhill; 6-4 F Jim Hobgood; 6-3 G Larry Gerry
REPLACEMENTS: 6-9 C Ray Morningstar; 6-8 C Ed Schetlick; 6-2 G Bill Langloh; 6-4 G Mark Newlen
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAINS: Bob McKeag, Steve Morris

OUTLOOK

Despite the loss of All-American guard Barry Parkhill, the Cavaliers will be an improved team in 1973-74. The Cavaliers return three starters plus five other lettermen in their quest for national and ACC prestige. Gus Gerard (6-7) and Wally Walker (6-7) will handle the brunt of the scoring. Gerard averaged 14.8 points and Walker 13.7. The Cavalier guard situation, even with the loss of Parkhill, can still be considered a strong suit. Regular Al Drummond returns and Andy Boninti has been groomed to take over Parkhill's point role. The "if" is at the important center spot, and it revolves around the untested Ray Morningstar.

WAKE FOREST

Wednesday, January 16, 1974 at Chapel Hill

REPLACEMENTS: 6-8 C Cal Stamp; 6-7 C Haley Hall; 6-5 F Dan Moody; 6-0 G Skip Brown; 6-8 F Don Mulnix; 6-0 G Charlie Ryan

OUTLOOK

With returning star guard Tony Byers leading the way, the '73-74 Deacons will be looking to improve on their 12-15 record. Coach Carl Tacy is entering his second season and hopes to be able to play a run and shoot type offense. Though Wake will be smaller than most of its opponents, Tacy hopes to counter this disadvantage with good solid defense and a hustling, running offense.

REPLACEMENTS: 6-6 F Bob Cook, 6-2 G Paul Fox, 6-9 C Terry Chili, 6-5 F Phil McLeod, 6-0 G Huck Hannon
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAINS: To be named

OUTLOOK

With eight of last year's top ten players back, new Duke Coach Neill McGeachy is optimistic about the 73-74 season. Biggest problem will be replacing Gary Melchionni and Alan Shaw. Three starters return—6-10 Chris Redding, 6-8 Bob Fleischer and 6-2 Kevin Billerman. Juniors Pete Kramer and Bill Suk and sophs Willie Hodge and Dave O'Connell should fight for the other starting spots. Duke should have good board strength with Fleischer, Redding and Hodge.

CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAINS: Game captains

OUTLOOK

The Wolfpack, which ranked No. 2 nationally last season, will field another strong team this year. Heading a list of nine lettermen are All-America David Thompson, All-ACC center Tommy Burleson and guard Monte Towe. Thompson averaged 24.7 points per game last season and Burleson was at 17.9. 6-7 Tim Stoddard and 6-8 Steve Nuce should battle for the forward spot opposite Thompson with Morris Rivers and Mark Moeller the top candidates at guard. State again should have a fine shooting team and one with excellent board strength.

REPLACEMENTS: 6-8 C Wilson Washington (freshman)
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAINS: Game Captains

OUTLOOK

With three starters returning from last year's 23-7 team which finished second in the Eastern Regionals, Maryland should again have a strong team in 1973-74. Tom McMillen and Len Elmore return to give the Terps an outstanding one-two punch on the front line. McMillen averaged 21.2 last year and Elmore 10.0. Elmore excels on defense as a shot-blocker. John Lucas (14.2 as a freshman) will again be at the point. Top candidates on the front line are 6-8 Owen Brown and 6-9 Tom Roy with Jap Trimble and Maurice Howard expected to fight for the other guard spot.

REPLACEMENTS: 6-1 W Bruce Grimm; 6-3 W Jeff Seemann; 5-10 point Phil Garrett; 6-3 W John Cottingham
CAPTAIN OR CO-CAPTAINS: To be named

OUTLOOK

The Furman Paladins will have their most balanced squad since the arrival of Joe Williams from Jacksonville three years ago. The only trouble spot appears to be inside depth behind starters Moose Leonard and Clyde Mayes. Outside shooting, which was lacking most of last year, should be improved with the addition of high school A-A Bruce Grimm (31.0 ppg.). Tournament experience gained during last season should also proved beneficial in Paladins' bid to repeat as Southern Conference Champions.

HOMER RICE

A.B. degree from Centre and a B.S. and M.E. degree from Eastern Kentucky State College.

Following his graduation, Rice played three seasons of professional baseball in the old Brooklyn Dodgers' chain. Then he began his career as a football coach.

He coached at Wartburg Central High in Tennessee, Spring City High in Tennessee and Highlands High in Ft. Thomas, Ky. In 1961, he received an award as "The Winningest Football Coach in America." His fantastic high school coaching record was 101 wins, nine losses and seven ties.

Rice then went into college coaching and performed the same kind of tricks. He was an assistant coach at the University of Kentucky and then at the University of Oklahoma, where he coached an explosive offensive machine.

In 1967, he was named head coach at the University of Cincinnati and what a job he did at that school! His 1968 team was so explosive that it led the nation in pass offense.

Rice is a leader in the Chapel Hill community. He is on the administrative board of the University Methodist Church. In 1972, he was campaign chairman of the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Community Chest Drive.

He is on the national conference staff of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Rice wrote the Huddle Prayer for the Pop Warner Little Scholars National Program.

A recently published book, Homer Rice on Triple Option Football, is drawing raves from football enthusiasts across the country.

He has authored two other books on football. The first, How to Organize Football Practice, was published in 1962. The other, The Explosive Short T, was published in 1963.

Rice is married to the former Phyllis Wardrup of Middlesboro, Ky., an alumna of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. They have three lovely daughters. Nancy, 22, is married to Steve Hetherington and now lives in California. The other girls are Phyllis, 20, a student at the University of Oklahoma, and Angela, 17.

Carolina players are being ranked in the UNC offensive statistics by a composite rating of field goal accuracy, free throw accuracy and rebound, assist and point average. The leader in each category gets 14 points, the second 13, etc. Thus, the highest a player can score is 70.0. Defensive statistics and some offensive statistics are not included in the rating system.

CARMICHAEL

The home of the Carolina Tar Heels is beautiful Carmichael Auditorium, better known as Blue Heaven to UNC fans.

However, it is anything but heaven to opposing teams. The Tar Heels have compiled an amazing 63-9 record on their home court since it first opened in 1965.

Carmichael is located in the tall pine trees at the heart of the Carolina campus. It is considered one of the most beautiful basketball arenas in the South.

The Auditorium was opened in the fall of 1965 and has been the home of four Atlantic Coast Conference championship teams, four Eastern Regional champions and one NIT champion. Carolina won its 1,000th game in Carmichael two years ago, defeating Virginia, 91-78.

The enthusiastic support given Tar Heel teams in Carmichael is well known. The 8,800-seat arena is filled for every game. Students often sleep in the Auditorium's halls just to get tickets for the big games.

Most of the Carolina athletic offices are located in Carmichael. Athletic Director Homer Rice and Coach Dean Smith have their offices there. The halls are lined with sketches of Carolina's many All-America athletes and there are three huge trophy cases containing awards from all sports.

The Auditorium is named for the late William D. Carmichael, Jr., one of the most popular gentlemen ever to serve on the University campus. He left a lucrative Wall Street business to become associated with UNC.

In Chapel Hill, Carmichael was comptroller and later the vice-president of the Consolidated University. He also served for a time as the Consolidated University's acting president. He died in 1961.

The Auditorium adjoins Woollen Gymnasium, longtime site of varsity basketball competition and now the center of Carolina's physical education and intramural activities.

EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

Coming off another big year and with the Carolina Athletic Department setting its goals ever higher, the University's Educational Foundation is to be cited for its continuing role in these accomplishments.

All athletic scholarships awarded by Carolina are made possible by the enthusiasm and generosity of Foundation members. The consistent quality of the Tar Heel sports program has coincided with the constant growth of and interest in the Educational Foundation.

An instrumental figure in the Foundation is Ernie Williamson, the executive vice-president.

"Interest reaches a new peak every year," he says. "There are many reasons for this but our overall success, as attributed by our third consecutive Carmichael Cup, is the most important one."

The Educational Foundation currently has over 2,500 members who finance a scholarship program that costs over $500,000 a year.

"Since its inauguration in 1938, the Foundation has provided scholarships, either partial or full, for over 2,000 student-athletes," says Williamson. "The majority of these men are anxious to return contributions which would enable us to award scholarships to others."

Williamson has always contended that a donation to the Foundation is not specifically a donation to athletics. He says that the high caliber young man who is awarded an athletic scholarship is a great representative of the University.

Williamson feels the overall bonus is in helping a worthy young man obtain a college education. Athletics come second.

Any donation to the Educational Foundation is welcome. However, membership in the Rams Club is restricted to those who contribute $100 or more.

"To my knowledge, Carolina is the only school which has an endowment program for athletic scholarships," adds Williamson. "At the present time we have seven endowed scholarships and ten members who are contributing toward an endowed scholarship. Under this program, we have life memberships available and also accept wills and bequests to the athletic program."

Foundation members receive priority on seat locations for football and basketball. A special room on the south wing of Kenan Field House serves as a meeting place for Rams and their families. This area is open two hours before football games and provides a lounge and picnic facilities for those who come early.

"A Foundation membership is a badge of prestige and loyalty to the University," Williamson points out. "Many of our finest members, however did not necessarily attend Carolina. They just heard about our program and felt it was worthy."

It is important to point out that all donations to the Foundation are tax deductible.

ORIGIN AND INCORPORATION

Three loyal and athletic-minded University of North Carolina alumni met in the office of Secretary of State Thad Eure at Raleigh in December of 1938 and organized the Educational Foundation, Inc.

The men were John Umstead Jr. of Chapel Hill, Max Abernethy of Raleigh, and Benton Stacy of Reidsville.

A charter was drawn with these three men as the incorporators and submitted to the late O. Max Gardner, who had his law firm clear it with the Internal Revenue Department as a charitable organization. The charter was issued December 7, 1938.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the Educational Foundation, Inc., is to raise funds for providing scholarships or grants-in-aid at the University to worthy and qualified high school students with athletic ability.

The Educational Foundation, Inc. operates on a dignified and realistic plane in compliance with all of the regulations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Atlantic Coast Conference.

It has the blessing and good will of all the University administration and, in its unique field, occupies a status similar to that of the Business Foundation, the Medical Foundation, and other money-raising organizations working for the benefit of the University.

The full amount of all donations of Foundation members is used for scholarships and grants. The organization has no administrative expense.

Ernie Williamson

The man who stands at the helm of the Educational Foundation is the popular and capable Ernie Williamson, executive vice-president.

The former star UNC tackle is one of the most active individuals in the Tar Heel sports picture, constantly on the go—talking with Foundation members, speaking to prospective members, or avidly following all of Carolina's athletic teams.

Williamson is a Carolina graduate with A.B. and M.A. degrees. The native of Crewe, Va., played one season of football here under Carl Snavely and was regarded as an outstanding tackle.

He was lured away to professional football and played with Los Angeles and Washington before being sidelined with a knee injury.

Ernie returned to Chapel Hill to finish work on his degrees and then went to the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn. He was an assistant coach there for two years and head coach for three seasons.

He came back to Carolina to accept his present position in 1957. At one time he served as recruiter for the football program.

Williamson loves all sports and is an expert fisherman and hunter.

He is married to the former Elva Smith of Lawrenceville, Va. They have a son, Wayne, 25, and a daughter, Carole, 17.
